

Verse 1

Cm Fm Gm
Wondering if I ever saw the seasons change

Cm Fm Gm
Was it spring or was I just lost in my head

Cm Fm Gm
There is water in my lungs and veins
Cm Fm Gm
Drowning the spiraling of my brain

Cm Fm Gm
They say to learn to live through it
Its not something so easy

Pre-chorus

Eb
I see the works of art they live
D'
I stand here outside my body
Eb Bb. Eb
Seeing no magic here

Eb
Drawing myself in a corner
D'
Someone passive to the masses
Eb. Bb. Eb
The oxygen is running out

Chorus

Eb
I'll tie my hair in ribbons
Keeping up the imperfections
Bb
Making my mind into a labyrinth of silence to take away my ability to break

Eb
I'll bleed dry in my story
Just a documentary

Bb. Eb. Bb Eb
It's not tragic just a broken heart

(little instrumental segway would just verse played with chords)

Verse 2

I guess it's my birthday that came around today
Woke up to look in the mirror for a change

Only to find a war in my head
With no winning winners
Just my heart bruised in pain

I'm washed away to an island, Miles and miles
Can't hear what they say
Leading my life stranded in the water

(bum bum bum bum)

Bridge

Eb
The girl at 9
Eb
Fought all the lies
Bb
Took her own sweet time

Eb
chocolate brown eyes with Curls
Bb
messed up and wild

Eb
can't get back to her Now
Bb
that I'm older

Eb
Her sweaters are filled with guilt
Bd. Am Bd

That time gave her

Outro

Eb

Was this what they meant

Eb

For me to be prepared

Bb

To lose my hope-filled days

Eb

The sparkles in my eyes

Dimmed from the inside

Bb. Cm

Turned to gray
